1- PPIF INTRODUCTION

Punjab Population Innovation Fund is a not-for-profit, public-sector company, registered under Section 42 of the Companies Ordinance, 1984. The PPIF has been established to support innovative approaches to delivery of family planning services with a view to achieving the Punjab Growth Strategy's objective of reducing fertility to couples' desired levels. The fund spearheads locally responsive, scalable and sustainable family planning and reproductive health initiatives. PPIF-enabled interventions would play a critical role in accelerating Fertility Decline by increasing Contraceptive Prevalence in Punjab, a province which houses half of the national population of women with unmet need for contraception.

Aims of PPIF

- To support the Punjab Growth Strategy 2025 objective of reducing fertility to couples' desired levels.
- To reduce the proportion (18%) and number (3 million) of women with unmet need for family planning services in Punjab, especially in rural, poor and underserved areas, and existing users of traditional methods (2 million) to convert them into modern contraceptive users.

PPIF Strategic Objectives:

- Increase Accessibility of Family Planning Services
- Reduce Cost Related Barriers for the Unaffordability
- Strengthen Male Engagement
- Promote Youth Centered Information & Services
- Social & Behavior Change Communication
- Cross Cutting Strategies
 - Quality Assurance
 - Mobile and electronic health

2- BACKGROUND

Unwanted fertility is more common among poor, rural, and globally uneducated women than among their well off, urban, and educated counterparts, although this disparity is much smaller in countries with strong family planning programs. Evidence suggests that dependency ratio and household size have a statistically significant effect on poverty status while contraceptive use has the greatest impact on fertility and dependency ratio in Pakistan.¹ According to the Punjab MICS survey, there is an inverse correlation between wealth and the fertility rate; Fertility for the lowest wealth quintile is 4.5 births per woman as compared to 2.7 for the highest. Likewise, the unmet need for Family Planning is higher among the lowest wealth quintile i.e., 22% and lower among the highest wealth quintile that is 14.3%.²

Family planning promotion is unique among health interventions in the breadth of its potential benefits: reduction of poverty, lower maternal and child mortality, empowerment of women, reduced burden of unintended pregnancies, and enhanced environmental sustainability by stabilizing trends in population growth rates. However, socioeconomic, demographic, and geographic disparities in contraceptive use and access remain wide between and within countries, with significant implications for unequal attainment of reproductive health rights.³ To combat inequities in access to health services, vouchers have emerged as a strategy for both demand-and supply-side financing as part of reproductive health interventions, including family planning. Voucher programs can be effective in subsidizing contraceptive products and services and targeting subsidies to beneficiaries who, in their absence, would have a lower probability of service access and use⁴. The public health goals of universal access to FP services can be well-supported by voucher programs, which are specifically targeted at the marginalized or underserved populations whose right to family planning services is most compromised by financial or other constraints.⁵

3- TERMS OF REFERENCE & SCOPE OF SERVICES

a. Rationale:

Marginalized communities especially the Poors has the highest unmet need for FP services and Total Fertility Rate increases with decreasing wealth quintile. There are approximately 1.4 million eligible MWRAs among the 2.07 million active BISP beneficiaries in Punjab. There is potential to scale-up E-voucher model to reach these eligible MWRAs in BISP household for improved uptake of FP services. Results from piolet project showed that voucher model successfully addressed the financial and physical barriers in accessing FP services among poorest of the poor.

PPIF is proposing to scale-up E-Voucher model to reach these eligible MWRAs in BISP households for improving uptake of FP services among the poorest of poor. In order to emphasize on reaching young MWRAs registered among BISP beneficiaries the update data from BISP has been acquired and FP services will be provided through Private Providers (PP) at subsidized rates.

The main activities included are as follows;

b. Main Activities:

i. Demand Generation:

- Development of IEC/BCC material.
- Capacity building of FP champions, social mobilizers, LHWs and BISP mother Ambassadors
- Conduct awareness raising community sessions and household visits.
